

Data Storage and Privacy Policy

Last modified: November 10, 2020

Introduction

Associated General Contractors of California (“AGC” or “We”) respects your privacy and is committed to protecting it through our compliance with this policy by implementing and maintaining reasonable and appropriate security procedures and practices to protect personal and financial information from unauthorized access, destruction, use, modification or disclosure. This Data Storage and Privacy Policy supplements the information contained in AGC’s General Privacy Policy.

This policy describes some of the types of information we may collect from you or that you may provide when you visit the website www.buildcalifornia.com (“Website”), and our practices for collecting, using, storing, maintaining, protecting, and disclosing that information. This policy applies to information we collect on this Website or through third-party payment services for purchase from or through the Website. It does not apply to information collected by us offline or through any other means, including through any application or content (including advertising) that may link to or be accessible from or on the Website.

Please read this policy carefully to understand our policies and practices regarding your information and how we will treat it. If you do not agree with our policies and practices, your choice is to not use our Website. By accessing or using this Website or purchasing items from or through this Website, you agree to this privacy policy. This policy may change from time to time. Your continued use of this Website after we make changes is deemed to be acceptance of those changes, so please check the policy periodically for updates.

1. Information Collection Practices

a. Types of Information Collected

We collect and store certain information from and about users of our Website, including information by which you may be personally identified, such as name, mailing address, e-mail address, telephone number, social security number or any other identifier by which you may be contacted online or offline, as well as financial information related to purchases from or through the Website, such as credit card number, debit card number, security code, expiration date or (“personal and financial information”). This information is collected directly from you when you provide it to us (e.g., by paying for purchases), automatically as you navigate through the site (e.g., usage details, IP addresses, domain name, type of browser, equipment being used), or from third parties (e.g., our business partners). We use “cookies” only to store user preferences and to record session information (e.g., user password, items added to a shopping cart).

b. Uses of Information Collected

AGC’s primary objective in collecting user information is to provide the best member and customer service possible. AGC collects and stores personal and financial information in order to assist customers in the check-out process in the future. We use information that we collect about you or that you provide to us, including any personal and/or financial information, to provide you with this information or services, to fulfill any other purpose for which you provide it, to provide you with notices about your account, to carry out our obligations and enforce our rights arising from any contracts entered into between you and us (e.g., billing and collection) and in any other way we may describe when you provide the information or for any other purpose with your consent.

c. Disclosure of Your Information

We may disclose aggregated information about our users, and information that does not identify any individual, without restriction.

We may disclose personal information that we collect or you provide as described in this privacy policy with AGC affiliates and related third parties, for the purpose of providing products, services, and resources offered by AGC, including to for filling purposes. AGC occasionally shares some collected non-financial information with member and nonmember individuals and entities. AGC generally does not sell or trade collected information to third parties specifically for commercial use. We do not control third parties’ collection or use of your information to serve interest-based advertising. However, these third parties may provide you with ways to choose not to have your information collected or used in this way. You can opt out of receiving targeted ads from members of the Network Advertising Initiative (“NAI”) on the NAI’s website.

2. Accessing and Correcting Your Information

You can review and change your personal information by logging into the Website and visiting your personal account profile page. You may also send us an email at info@buildcalifornia.com to request access to, correct, or delete any personal information that you have provided to us. We may not accommodate a request to change information if we believe the change would violate any law or legal requirement or cause the information to be incorrect.

3. Children Under the Age of 16

We do not allow purchases by children under the age of 16, and therefore do not collect related personal or financial information from children under the age of 16. For information on potential collection of personal information from children and opt-in/opt-out rights, please see the information contained in the General Privacy Policy.

4. California Privacy Rights

If you are a California resident, California law may provide you with additional rights regarding our use of your personal information. To learn more about your California privacy rights, view our AGC Data Storage and Privacy Notice for California Residents.

California's "Shine the Light" law (Civil Code Section § 1798.83) permits users of our Website that are California residents to request certain information regarding our disclosure of personal information to third parties for their direct marketing purposes. To make such a request, please send an email to info@buildcalifornia.com or write us at: 3095 Beacon Boulevard, West Sacramento, California 95691.

5. Data Security

This Website and the servers that store collected information have industry-standard security measures in place to protect against the loss, misuse, and alteration of the information under AGC's control. Please note, however, that no security system is 100% secure. Authentic Website pages requesting credit card information will be secure web pages, and sensitive data will be encrypted for transmission. Although we do our best to protect your personal and financial information, we cannot guarantee the security of your personal information transmitted to our Website. Any transmission of personal information is at your own risk. We are not responsible for circumvention of any privacy settings or security measures contained on the Website. Absent user consent, AGC does not knowingly share credit card numbers or information, social security numbers or other related financial information with third parties except to the extent necessary for, and incidental to, the purposes for which the user supplied the information.

The safety and security of your information also depends on you. Where we have given you (or where you have chosen) a password for access to certain parts of our Website, you are responsible for keeping this password confidential. We ask you not to share your password with anyone.

6. Changes to Our Privacy Policy

It is our policy to post any changes we make to our privacy policy on this page. We reserve the right, at any time and without notice, to add to, change, update, or modify this privacy policy simply by posting such change, update, or modification on the Website and without any other notice to you. Any such change, update, or modification will be effective immediately upon posting on the Website. The date the privacy policy was last revised is identified at the top of the page. You are responsible for periodically visiting our Website and this privacy policy to check for any changes.
