EMERGING LEADERS

Simply put, we build leaders!

EDUCATE

CONNECT

ENGAGE

Ensuring the future of the construction industry requires a strong team. At the heart of AGC's Emerging Leaders program, we build leaders who are passionate about their careers and determined to build a better, brighter future for California.

How we help entry and mid-level construction professionals reach their career goals:

- Provide relevant education and training.
- Develop powerful networks.
- Create opportunities to hold leadership roles, build business acumen and leadership skills, and advocate for the industry
- Offer chances to learn about how all facets of the industry work and impact project completion, including legislation and policy.

Our mission is simple: We believe construction is our future. AGC's Emerging Leaders exists to educate, connect and engage entry to mid-level construction professionals so that together, we learn the industry, develop powerful networks, and build our communities.
